It does not contain creosote, but has done splendid works in the cure of consumption. It is clearly indicated wherever there has been any loss. It is highly soothing to the nerves, preserving them from the extremes of heat and cold. It does not induce constipation; but controls diarrhoea by giving tone to the intestines.

It develops personal magnetism; and eliminates senile deposits (seeds of death) from the system, and makes one look young. Its continued use clears the complexion, to freshness and beauty. It tightens the relaxed tissues, and gives gracefulness to the figure and build.

For forward business for Southerns nothing was reported in Marwari Bazar. The nominal quotation was Rs. 417.

Our market for ready cotton had a quieter feeling yesterday, and the off-take is quite limited. Exporters are not buying anything at present, while local spinners are poor buyers. At Colaba nothing was reported in Southern, but there were sellers at 414.

MILL-STORES AND CHEMICALS

Oct. 12.

The markets continued quiet. The volume of business recorded was rather poor. A distinct tendency to clear off the stocks by the ensuing Divali halidays is evident on the part of the merchants. The fever of cornering "Heaids" in the mill stores market and "Sodium Sulphide" in the Chemicals market, appears to have greatly subsided. The stringency in the money market has produced good deal of effect, and has checked the improvement in prices. However, Farina is quoted between Rs. 17 and 20 per cwt. Heavy Chemicals continued poor in demand. Bleaching especially has achieved the rock-bottom price of Rs. 20 to 25 per cwt. The general feature of both the markets is all-round lethargy. The quotations have witnessed no attractive changes.

REGULARITY OF THE BOWELS

The First Line of Defence against Ill-Health.

They have been a burst of light on many a darkened life.

Only about one man or woman in a hundred is perfectly healthy. The other 99 have some digestive trouble, and perhaps more than 50 per cent. of these could trace their trouble to that prevalent evil—constipation. It's a simple thing of itself, but like many simple things, it may grow and become complicated. Constipation is the root of nine-tenths of the sickness of men, and a large proportion of the sickness of women. Nature often requires a little assistance, and if this assistance is given at the first indication much distress and suffering may be averted. To maintain a healthy system the bowels should operate at least once every 24 hours. This is one of Nature's wise provisions which is too often ignored, and the result is untold suffering. Women and children are the greatest offenders, but why such should be the case is a problem to be solved. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are a Remedy which, taken at the first indication, assist Nature to restore the system to health and strength, and avert the development of disease. Every ailment is the effort of Nature to get rid of some impurity in the system, and the object of medical treatment is to assist Nature in doing so. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills do this surely and thoroughly. To overcome constipation take one to four Pills regularly until the Bowels move daily, and are restored to healthy action.

DR. MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS are an efficient, reliable, and safe remedy, placed on the market at a price within the reach of all. The pills being sugar-coated, are pleasant to take, and retain their full medicinal properties. They are packed in amber-coloured bottles—not in cheap wooden or paste-board boxes—and are thus always fresh and clean, impervious to moisture, unaffected by climatic conditions, and do not deteriorate by keeping as all liquid medicines do.

Sold by all Chemists and Stores generally at R1.00 per bottle or six bottles for R5.00, or will be forwarded on receipt of price by the W. H. Comstock Co., Ltd., 21 Farringdon Avenue, London. Sole Proprietors.

NO MORE TENDER, ACHING FEET.

MEDICAL MAN SAYS TRY ONE DIP IN SALTRATED WATER FOR QUICK AND LASTING RESULTS WHEN FEET BURN, SMART, SWELL, ITCH, BLISTER, AND PERSPIRE. GIVES PRESCRIPTION.

The blood circulation in the feet is nearly always defective, due to their great distance from the heart. For this reason the feet are especially susceptible to heat and cold, the skin callouses easily, pores clog, corns form, and various unhealthy conditions develop rapidly. The lack of proper circulation always renders injuries to the feet highly dangerous and liable to infection, tetanus (lock-jaw) being frequent and tissue repair very slow. Such diseases as Dropsy and Gout usually affect the feet first of all. Bearing the whole weight of the body, shoe pressure, on sensitive, irritated nerves and on delicate blood-vessels, all tend to make matters worse, for the blood is Nature's own soothing, healing, and curative agent. It will do what no medicine, liniment or ointment can. When you bruise your flesh, you instinctively rub it to attract the blood and soothe the pain. Stimulate the circulation of the feet by resting them in hot saltrated water, and see how quickly your aches, pains, and other foot troubles disappear. Even rheumatic twinges, stiffness, swellings, and inflammation immediately subside. A few ounces of Reudel Bath Saltrates is all you need. It immediately medicates and oxygenates water to which it is added, and the cost is extremely slight. All chemists would have the refined compound in stock, as it is very generally prescribed by physicians and chiropodists.

SMALL CAUSES COURT

SUIT AGAINST MANAGER OF STATE RAILWAY.

Coram:—A. A. Chitre Esqr. 4th Judge

Thakorlal Chimanlal and others, Plaintiffs.

vs.

The Agent or Manager, Eastern Bengal State Railway, (2) The Bengal Nagpur Railway Co., and (3) The Great Indian Peninsula Railway Co. Defendants.

Mr. Indernarayen for Plaintiffs, Mr. Bowen for 1st defendant, Mr. Mulgaoker for 2nd and 3rd defendants.

The plaintiff filed this suit to recover from the defendants the sum of Rs. 609, the value of 25 bags short delivered at Bombay out of a consignment of 299 bags of rice booked from Kalighat, a station on the E. B. Railway, to Dasar on 24th April 1920.

The following two preliminary issues were framed:—

(1) Whether the suit was maintainable against the Agent or Manager of the E. B. Railway; and whether the same ought not to be against the Secretary of State.

(2) Whether, (in any case) notice should not have been given to the Secretary of State with reference to the E. B. Railway under Section 80 of the C. P. Code.

In holding that the suit as framed against the Agent or Manager of the E. B. Railway was maintainable, that the Secretary of State was not a necessary party and that no notice to the Secretary of State was necessary under Section 80 of the C. P. Code the Learned Judge delivered the following judgment:—

THE JUDGMENT.

"In this case 2 preliminary issues have been raised at the instance of Mr. Bowen, who appears for the 1st defendant, the Eastern Bengal Railway. By an amendment allowed by me the style of the 1st defendant is changed to "Agent or Manager, E. B. Railway." It was conceded by Mr. Bowen on the strength of the communication from the Chief Secretary to Bengal Government that the E. B. Railway was a state Railway owned and worked by Government. Mr. Indernarayen for plaintiff conceded to that proposition without requiring strict proof. It must be pointed out however that in the warrant filed by Mr. Bowen on behalf of the E. B. State Railway, the word State is struck off in the manner shown. Further the warrant is signed by one Mr. White as "agent" of the E. B. Railway. If the railway was owned by the State the proper authority would be the "Manager" under the Railway Act. Mr. Bowen however refers to a further resolution of the Bengal Government changing the designation of "Manager" to an "Agent." Mr. Indernarayen again accepts this on trust and rightly asserts that the confusion if any is caused by the Acts of Government and hence the application for the ammendment of the title of first defendant as the "Agent or Manager" E. B. Railway." Mr. Bowen's contention on these facts is that on general principles of law, the principle viz. The Secretary of State should be the proper person to be sued and the suit cannot be framed as against an Agent. To that the answer is that the suit is framed against a Railway administration and that the term railway administration having been defined by the Sec. 3 sub cl. 6 of Railway Act IX of 90. the institution of the suit as framed is proper.

STATE OWNED RAILWAYS.

Under Sec. 3 Sub Cl. 6 of Railway Act, railway administration in State owned railway means the manager and "includes" the Government. For all practical purposes the Government of the Secretary of State have advisedly made the Manager of a State owned railway the proper person to be sued in suits against such Railway administrations. This is advisedly done to meet the practical conveniences of all persons dealing with railway administrations.

Notice to agent or manager is given under the Railway Act. Notice to the Secretary of the State is under the Civil Procedure Code. If the Secretary of State is not a necessary party to the suit and if he is not on record as such, he can not claim Notice under the Civil Procedure Code. If the "Manager" of a State owned railway is the proper person against whom a suit could be filed, the only notice needed is one under the Railway Act. And the mere fact the railway is owned by state imposes no obligation on plaintiff to give notice to the Secretary of State under Civil Procedure Code."

LIABILITY OF PORT TRUST FOR LOSS

A. A. Crawford trading as Bombay Electric Co ..... Plaintiff.

vs.

The Bombay Port Trust ..... Defendant.

Plaintiff sued to recover Rs. 81-8 the damages sustained by him by reason of defendant's failure to deliver to them, in April 1920, 3 bars out of a consignment of 48 bars of double refined pig lead consigned to him per s.s. "Nawab." Plaintiff's case was that instead of three bars bearing his marks, bars of different marks were delivered. He therefore called upon the defendant to take back the three bars wrongly delivered and to pay him the value of his three bars.

The defendant contended that the suit should be dismissed as the plaintiff had failed to give the notice as provided by Section 87 of the Bombay Port Trust Act, and that plaintiff had failed to make a complaint as required by bye-laws No. 76 and 89 of the Port Trust. Without prejudice to their above defences defendants contended that the 3 bars in dispute had been duly delivered and that they held a receipt for the same.

ONE MONTH'S NOTICE NECESSARY.

Section 87 of the Bombay Port Trust Act inter alia provides that one months previous notice in writing of the intended suit and the cause thereof shall be given before filing of suit, etc. Bye law 76 runs as follows":—

And the Trustees will not be answerable or liable for dificiencies of merchandise produced by natural or unavoidable causes, nor for any losses or deficiencies whatever, unless ascertained, pointed out to and acknowledged by the Docks Manager previous to the removal of the goods from the Dock." Bye Law 89 says "The Trustees will accept no liability or responsibility whatsoever for loss of or for damage to goods unless notice of loss or damage alleged shall have been received prior to shipment or delivery as the case may be."

The Learned Judge held that no complaint had been made by plaintiff before the bars were removed from the Lock and dismissed the suit.

Mr. Bomanjee for Plaintiff.

Messrs. Little and Co., for Defendants.

POONA CLERKS' UNION

A Clerks' Union has been established in Poona, and a meeting to adopt the rules framed was held on Sunday last, at the Kirloskar Theatre, under the presidency of Mr. John De Mello, who has been elected President of the Union. There were about 300 clerks present. The objects of the Union are to provide an organisation to protect and promote the interests of the clerks and to furnish them with social amenities and educational and economic advantages such as a library and places where they could meet and have a reading room, a library, sports, entertainments, a Debating Society and funds for encouraging thrift and mutual aid. The subscription has been fixed at a low figure in order to make the advantages of the Union easily available to clerks with small means. A Managing Committee consisting representatives from almost every office in Poona has been formed.

HE WENT TO RACES.

SUSTAINING LOSSES, COMMITS SUICIDE.

Abraham Moses, a Jew youth of 24, residing with his friends at Bellasis Road, used to go to races. He lost Rs. 8,000, in gambling in Busra and while coming to Bombay he brought Rs. 2,000 with him. After every Poona race he used to complain of sustaining heavy losses. On Monday last about 10 in the morning he went out and returned in an hour's time and he took himself to bed and began to breathe hard immediately afterwards. Doctors were sent for and they treated him, but he died at 4 p.m.

At an inquest held on his body by Mr. A. R. King, the medical evidence showed that the death was due to opium poisoning.

The jury returned a verdict of death caused by poisoning by opium, which was apparently self-administered.

A CASE OF SUICIDE

Yesterday the Coroner and a common jury held an inquest regarding the death of Mrs. Madanlaxmibai, wife of Mr. Chandrashanker M. Pancholi and daughter of Mr. C. N. Pandia, pleader. The deceased was about twenty-two years of age and was living with her husband at Khetwadi Main Road. At 8 a.m. on Monday last she was found to be suffering from the effects of opium poisoning.

A doctor was sent for who on arrival found her in a state of collapse.

She told the doctor and her father that she had taken salphate of copper, but did not say why she had done that. She died at 1-30 p.m. the same day.

The evidence went to show that she was over-sensitive and somewhat hysterical. Since the death of her mother, three years ago, she was often found sad and gloomy.

A verdict of suicide was returned by the jury.

REVERSE BILLS.

IN ENGLAND'S INTEREST.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—I find the Bengal Chamber has telegraphed to Government on the subject of Reverse Bills. They say that the suspension of these sales has resulted in the collapse of exchange from 1sh. 10d. to 1sh. 6½d. Let me point out the Exchange had collapsed from 2sh. 10½d. to 1sh. 8d. or 40 per cent. even when the Reverse Bills were being sold, and that therefore their deduction as to the cause of the present collapse is to say the least too hasty.

They next ask Government whether it proposes to jettison the recommendations of the Currency Committee. I do not know what the Government proposes to do, but I ask these merchants of Bengal whether they understand what they are talking about? Do they understand that the Committee's recommendation would mean a rate of 2-10 to-day? Do they seriously mean that Government should now try to raise exchange from 1-6½ to 2-10? It is simply unthinkable. It would be almost a crime to attempt any such upheaval in exchange even if the same was possible especially when even at to-day's rate there is no demand for any part of the world for India's staple commodities.

The Bengal Chamber evidently does not understand the full meaning of its own recommendations. It wants sales of gold also to be resumed. Does it understand that it means further imports and therefore means making our already heavy adverse balance still worse? The fact that Government will import it and the public will stop doing it, does not alter the fact that it will go to the debit of India's account. The only difference will be that by selling gold at 22 or 20 rupees the Government will be giving it far cheaper than it costs to lay down and the speculator in gold will benefit at the expense of the country.

As for the sales of Reverse Councils to the full extent of Government resources it can only mean a further artificial contraction of the circulation which would be madness in the present state of money and of trade. The Finance Member tried to ridicule the talk of tight money and fears of a crisis by pointing to the 5 per cent. Bank Rate. I suppose he did it to support a very bad case—the change of ratio. He must then have had before him the proposals for the Bombay Development Loan and must have known that the Bombay authorities thought it necessary to pay practically 7 per cent. (6½ per cent. free of income tax). Even this Loan paying such a handsome rate has to be widely advertised and boosted and the cooperation of bankers, merchants and mill owners has to be called in to make it a success. This is the result of the methods already adopted. Our staple crops will now shortly be harvested and will require financing. The financing will be far more difficult than in normal years because overseas markets are so bad that these harvests will take a much larger time to go into consumption. In view of these facts, any further artificial contraction of the Currency will be simply suicidal and I hope the authorities will not listen to any such hair-brained proposals.

The only way that exchange can now recover is by a recovery of our exports and any fresh attempts to bolster it up will fail as miserably as the attempts during the past 10 months and will make the ultimate position still worse.—Yours, etc.

B. F. MADON,

October 11th.

P. S.—Various correspondents in the press have attributed the suspension of the sales of Reverse Bills to the agitation carried on by me and by the Indian Merchants Chamber. Let me assure them they do us too much honour. I strongly suspect that it is not our agitation but the financial situation in Great Britain and the difficulty of realising further large blocks of sterling securities week by week that has compelled the Government to suspend these disastrous sales.

MR. GANDHI'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

HIS MESSAGE TO INDIAN WOMEN.

The Bhagiri Samaj celebrated the 52nd birth-day of Mr. M. K. Gandhi at the hall of the Marwadi Vidyalaya on Saturday evening. There was a large gathering of ladies. Mrs. Jaijibai Petit presided.

The proceedings began with the singing of a hymn which was followed by the recitation of a poem eulogising the many good qualities of Mr. Gandhi.

Mr. Shankerlal G. Banker then gave a short sketch of Mr. Gandhi's career touching all the great points of his life. He said one of Mr. Gandhi's principles was to know the "self" and then to know God and this he said he did successfully. He knew his own mind and then he was "out in search of truth" which he found out and was now giving out to the world at large. Mr. Gandhi taught the world by his own simple life that men could be free only by curtailing their necessities. He also taught the world not to depend upon others so far as practicable and to that end only he has taken to weaving and agriculture to produce his own necessities.

As a leader Mr. Gandhi differed greatly from other leaders. He did not believe so much in preaching as much in precept.

The speaker then gave an account of his Satyagraha Ashram and said if the ideal with which Mr. Gandhi started the Ashram be realised, then the nation would soon witness a great change.

After a prayer sung by some of the ladies, Mrs. Petit gave to them the message of Mr. Gandhi in Gujerati in which he said "he did not understand what connection the women had with his birthday and how Indian women recognised him. Thinking over this he feels that they recognised his affection. They knew that he had their self-respect at his heart and to preserve which the easiest method which he had shewn to them was "Swadeshi." Men could not help more than the women in promoting it. When the daughters of India used to spin yarn and covered themselves and others then, India was poor but she was not so poor as it was to-day. At that time the womanhood of India preserved their modesty but he saw that they did not do so now. He therefore preached to the women the same thing. His advice to them was that all the women should always spend one hour in spinning yarn. All of them should consider plain-living a duty imposed upon them and use the clothes made of the yarn spun by their maidens and consider them as holy. He perceived "Swarajya" for India in this only."

Mrs. Surajbai read out to the audience a draft of the reply to Mr. Gandhi's message, on behalf of the Bhagini Samaj in which they wished him long life and prayed to God to enable him to render greater services to the country and humanity.

The proceedings terminated with the singing of a Bhajan.

my old friends in the Bar, and I cannot conceal from you, gentlemen, the pleasure that I would have had in continuing those relations with the members of the Bar with whom I have enjoyed for so many years and I am sure I will also miss my old friends with the same kindness and sympathy. Mr. Desai and members of the Bar, I am really very thankful again for the kind words you have uttered with regard to me and I hope I have in the discharge of my duties during this short period done something to deserve them.

HIGH COURT

SIR CHIMANLAL SETALVAD RESIGNS.

REFERENCE BY THE BOMBAY BAR.

The Hon. Sir Chimanlal Setalvad, who was appointed an additional Judge of the Bombay High Court in June last, resigned his place from the 12th instant and consequently took his seat for the last time on Monday the 11th instant. At 5 p.m. on Monday, reference was made on behalf of the members of the Bar on the Original Side by Mr. B. J. Desai, the most senior member of the Bar, among those present in Court then. The Court was crowded with Barristers, Advocates, Solicitors and Pleaders.

THE BAR'S ADDRESS.

Mr. B. J. Desai, on behalf of the members of the Bar, said:—

My Lord,

Before your Lordship lays down the high office to which you were called upon a short time ago, it is my privilege on behalf of members of the Bar to address a few words which I trust your Lordship will permit me to do. Urged by considerations of being able to render another kind of public service we have learnt that your Lordship has resigned your office; and so far as your Lordship's desire in that direction goes, your Lordship has the unstinted sympathy in the cause that your Lordship will be able to espouse in a sphere different to that which you have only for a short period now occupied.

DEALING JUSTICE.

When your Lordship accepted this office the words that your Lordship addressed to the Bar in response to my learned friend Mr. Bahadurji's address raised considerable expectations which I venture to say with all the members of the Bar and with the other branches of the profession. Those expectations have been fulfilled in a measure as full and as adequate as could be expected. It was expected of your Lordship having regard to your Lordship's large experience at the Bar, larger perhaps than was the privilege of anybody else practising before your Lordship, and it was also expected having resigned to your Lordship's clear knowledge of law and acumen and your grasp of facts and of points really arising in the case that justice would be done which would be both expeditious and yet satisfactory to all whether they succeeded or they failed. Your Lordship was pleased to state that justice should be done in a manner that would satisfy people who came to ask for justice.

EXPECTATIONS FULFILLED.

It is not merely the correctness of judgment alone which is enough for the purpose of inspiring confidence—and so far as that expectation is concerned—I beg leave to state on behalf of the Bar that that expectation has been fulfilled and has been shared not only by the members of the Bar, but by those who sought justice in your Lordship's Court. No doubt your Lordship's quickness of grasp may have been disconcerting to some of us, but at the same time that did not prevent the course of justice from taking any but the right and true course. Your Lordship's courtesy to the Bar was not only expected, but that courtesy was extended in a manner which one can only say, arose from the exceptional placidity and sweetness which has been the envy of all. One thing, however, may be said that so far as the choice of a member of the Bar can be made in order to fill the high post which you have recently filled, the Bar has been honoured by your Lordship's person and the justification, if ever it was required, was more than established by the selection of a practising member of the Bar. While we venture to say that it strengthened the Bench at the same time, there is always a regret amongst the members of the Bar that the strongest among them may be translated to another sphere of activity. They look upon the compensation in his elevation to the Bench as the only solace for the strength which it has taken away from the Bar. Our regret, the measure of which is really the measure of the pleasure of meeting you in a more elevated sphere of work and of our pleasure that your Lordship will in that capacity render higher public service in another sphere.

SIR CHIMANLAL'S REPLY.

Sir Chimanlal Setalvad, replying, said:—

Mr. Desai, and members of the Bombay Bar,—I feel very thankful indeed for the words Mr. Desai on your behalf has addressed to me on this occasion. I feel very gratified that my work on the Bench has received approbation from members of the Bar and you will permit me to say, gentlemen, the success that I have been able to achieve in this capacity has in no small measure been due to the co-operation and willing assistance that the Bar has ungrudgingly given me during my tenure of office. I shall never forget the kindness and the readiness with which the Bar on every occasion co-operated with me and assisted me in the administration of justice in this Court.

I may assure you, gentlemen, it is indeed with a feeling of regret that I leave this office; but as Mr. Desai has observed already, it is only my sense of duty telling me that I am required in some other sphere to serve my country, that has made me resolve to relinquish this office. What you have said, Mr. Desai, about members of the Bar filling this office being in a much better position than other people to appreciate the difficulties and circumstances under which the Bar has to work is perfectly true; and I am sure that when I have left this office I look forward to of again resuming these relations with the members of the Bar with whom I have enjoyed for so many years and I am sure I will also miss my old friends with the same kindness and same sympathy. Mr. Desai and members of the Bar, I am really very thankful again for the kind words you have uttered with regard to me and I hope I have in the discharge of my duties during this short period done something to deserve them.

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE, Wednesday, October 13, 1920.

A MELANCHOLY STORY.

Yesterday we noticed the opposition of the authorities in India to the skeleton-scheme of the Esher Committee with regard to territorial units composed of Indians and the flagrant manner in which the ruling community and their allied stock have been separated for honest encouragement. To give some sort of a miserable excuse for their policy, they strive to make capital of the alleged failure of the Indian section of the I. D. F., a result which, it is notorious, was the logical outcome of invidious and step-motherly policy. Almost as if in anticipation of the contentions of the Committee, Sir P. S. Sivaswamy Iyer published in July last a brochure ruthlessly exposing the methods by which the movement was run as a meaningless side-show along with the conscription of Europeans and Eurasians. Sir Sivaswamy Iyer could speak with authority because he was, in 1917 and 1918, a member of the Government of Madras and President of the Executive Committee in charge of the recruitment of the Indian Section. We cannot escape the impression that with the avowed hostility of authorities as manifested in the Esher report, the experiment now launched as a side-show, must also be battered out of shape and made into a big argument against the development of any scheme, in future, "that may be used against us one way or another". Even in 1917, it was well-known in Madras that Sir Sivaswamy Iyer was in a position to divulge the secrets of the encouragement received from Government and headquarters. In fact, leaders who worked in the recruitment, it was said, pressed Sir Sivaswamy to publish the facts, but his official position and sense of delicacy constrained him to keep his peace and make the best of heart-breaking circumstances. Before detailing them on the authority of Sir Sivaswamy, let us see how the Esher Committee expatiate on the discouraging features of the response and derive their lesson from it. There is not a word in their report in proper condemnation of tardy and disgusting methods. A perfunctory remark is made that the scheme of 1917 was hard on men with fixed occupations. This is what they say by way of final verdict:—

However, the scheme cannot be regarded as other than a failure, the main causes of which probably are those already mentioned at the close of paragraph 4, and in one case racial or sectional feeling, which made it necessary, we are told to withdraw ammunition from a company under training, lest the rival sections might open fire on one another. The conclusion to be drawn from the experiment is that some at least of the more enthusiastic advocates of the territorial movement probably overrated the practical strength of the desire of the urban classes to share in the burden of defence, and underrated the difficulties of arousing a military spirit and creating a sense of discipline and sacrifice among those classe.

Happily, sections did not destroy one another by mutual shooting! Sir Sivaswamy has proved to the hilt that the enthusiasm of the urban classes was not overrated; the fault was that the authorities underrated the self-respect of Indians when they ascribed superior responsibilities to Europeans and Eurasians, and took their training alone seriously. The pity is that the authorities seem to be quite complacent over the delusion that Indians will stand nonsense in the continuation of racial discrimination. In no department of life will that presumption be tolerated and if there is friction or delay in the fruition of beautiful schemes, it is probably worth while wrecking them till the superior claims of foreigners are put an the same level with those of Indians.

The Esher Committee seem to evade the issue by holding the matter in suspense, and they build upon the presumption of inaptitude which they derive from the so-called failure of the voluntary section of the I. D. F. People in India may recall with what thrill of enthusiasm the idea of decent training was received, but it did not take long for the obstructive procedure of officials to make itself felt. To begin with, those who alleged themselves to be Eurasians swaggered like privileged British soldiers, while their employers were expected to draft themselves as "sepoys." The acid test of extraction again revolutionised status: the earner of the small pittance marched in glory while his previous paymaster had to crouch under threat of flogging. A record so mean and miserable as given by Sir Sivaswamy it is hard to conceive of, and he gives good evidence in support of the statement that it was not the apathy of recruits but the indifference, to put it mildly, of the hide-bound brass-hats, which discouraged recruits. According to Anglo-Indians, the people of this country are infatuated with the desire that foreign bayonets should protect them. Apparently they do not care to relieve the heroes of their burden. Hence the theory that some classes are, by congenital pre-adaptation, non-martial. They say that the educated classes do not burn with a desire to defend their own country, as they, feeling safe in the security of the times, think more of conditions of training than the duty of defence itself. We may concede that they are jealous of the conditions of training, and refuse, like other human beings, to be stampeded by talk of responsibility and of crisis when Government fail to do their duty. To resume the argument of Sir Sivaswamy, Simla was from the first opposed to the Indian Branch. The bureaucrats have been consistent since as well. They eliminated the bulk of educated Indians by insisting on conditions usual to the "regular sepoy." Take the question of flogging. No decent Indian would run the risk of being flogged at the orders of the irascible curmudgeons who were to boss them and rub down their conceit. When representations were made, the Headquarters would not budge. Time was everything, but the mandarins stood firm and wasted seven weeks before revolving the proposition that volunteers should be spared the degradation. There was, however, no trustworthy assurance at all, and the controversy launched on 2nd June dragged through the months until Sir Sankaran Nair was urged early September to use his influence against the imposition of what Frank Johnson would call the kindest of punishments. On 4th October the impolicy of it dawned on Simla, and a private assurance of a trustworthy character was exacted. So precious months were wasted and the resentment of the public, agreeably to the mood of certain authorities, hardened. Section 12 of the I. D. F. Act laid down that recruiting to the non-European section should be accomplished in six months and the Governor-General-in-Council had relieved himself of authority to extend the time by Rules. If, therefore, the matter resulted in confusion and cross-purposes for six months, the scheme could be turned down.

We have noticed how the controversy over flogging dragged through four precious months and created the impression that the voluntary section had more humiliation than honour in the performance of their duties. Again, the Government of India wasted a month out of the six for the tardy issue of Rules. The Act was passed on 28th February; the period of recruitment was to expire on 28th August, but the preliminary delay of a month interfered with the progress of the movement. Where then was the time to organise? Europeans and Eurasians were admissible in the Light Horse and Mounted Rifles, the Artillery Corps, and the Electrical Engineers' Companies, besides the Infantry units. Not so the Indians, to whom there was a further stimulus in the dour announcement of Government that while privileged communities had the chance of training as officers, mere Indians ought to develop as sepoys! The long vacation had already begun when after their month's delay, Government unbosomed themselves of their intentions. After their cold-water douche, the authorities apperently waited. Sir Siviaswamy Iyer refers pathetically to his efforts at getting information regarding the conditions of service and the formation of University corps and student-platoons. The authorities would not be easily drawn. In Madras a single training centre was grudingly given, while for the sister branch thirty-one were promptly provided. Obstruction and delay made the chances of Government servants blank indeed. Once more it was proved that Indians suffer not so much through lack of formal law and verbal assurances, but through unsympathetic administration of the law. Again, student applicants were harassed by the rule that they ought to appear before the Collector, who would hold the "good-character enquiry" and inform the G. O. C. confidentially. Two young men in the District of Malabar living 50 miles from the headquarters of the Collector, applied through the local sub-magistrate, who vouched for their character. That was ruled as inadequate and Sir Sivaswamy gives instances of the young men who sought audience of Collectors and failed to see them. The experience of applicants knocking at bolted doors went on. A serious scheme would have opened a large number of centres, facilitated entry and supplied an adequate number of application forms; whereas, even application-forms became ill-stocked. We wonder if there was method in the red-tape madness. Then came the curtailment, we shall not call it cutting-off, of supplies. Sir Siva swamy admits: "While the quantity of rations was not insufficient, the quality was altogether unsuitable to the class of recruits who would join the I. D. F." Therefore relief organisations were started. It may be observed that the authorities never dreamt of annoying British recruits, for if they created a golmal over rations, the reply that patriotism should transcend mean considerations of the stomach, would not pass muster. From the moment the President (Sir Sivaswamy) became aware of the Army scale of rations and the intentions of the Army Department to favour what was virtually under-feeding, "he felt the serious responsibility of inviting young men to join as recruits on condition of subsisting on the fare prescribed by the Government of India." Upon none of the subjects on which representations were made to Government, were they so dense and obstinate. Sir Sivaswamy says: "Had not the President organised a local committee to look after the messing arrangements of the recruits at Trichinopoly, the company would, for anything the military authorities knew or cared, have perished of starvation." And if that had happened, the Esher Committee might have observed that Indians would succumb to the rigours of territorial training! Let it be remembered the period of recruitment was one of deep political resentment and turmoil, and the unsettling effects c repression (Mrs. Besant was interned in June, 1917) naturally reacted on recruitment. Space forbids us to recapitulate the tale of melancholy meanness as disclosed by Sir Sivaswamy Iyer. The book is a scathing exposure of the way in which the original opposition of the military itself prevailed in practice. One is almost tempted to quote the historic admission of Lord Lytton of the policy by which pledges were methodically violated and hopes uttered to the ear were broken to the heart. The disclosures of Sir Sivaswamy, made on his experience and responsibility, are a valuable contribution which has a permanent relevancy to all liberal professions of bureaucratic reform. It is a convincing answer to the foolish and malignant charge of apathy ascribed to Indians on the basis of contrived failure in the past. The deductions of the Esher Committee, made on unwarranted assumptions, fall to the ground. But they will be repeatedly quoted against Indians and if once more the opposition of authorities to the territorial scheme, as revealed in the Esher Report, becomes effective, the result would merely be the inevitable confirmation of past experience.

Notes of the Day.

A "Hellish" Policy.

Can bleating lambs roar like lions? Sometimes—when they happen to be mere political lions. Mr. Asquith has broken with his past and delivered a terrific attack against Mr. Lloyd George's bankrupt policy towards Ireland. He has told the Premier plainly that insolvent statesmanship has been able to do nothing for Ireland except the inauguration of the "hellish" policy of reprisals —of murder for murder. We said some time ago that Irish Government was no Government at all—it was simply anarchy. Mr. Asquith says the same thing in the columns of "The Times" and uses almost the same words. Poor Mr. Lloyd George! He thought he had scored against his opponents by retiring to his mountain home and donning the mantle of a prophet to deliver himself of his prophetic utterance about the future of the Empire, the dangers of the Irish crisis and the splendid wisdom of the Coalition. But he reckoned without his host, forgetting that the very words would be taken out of his mouth and used against him as they were by Mr. Asquith when he said that the Irish policy of the British Cabinet was the greatest danger to the safety of the Empire and a blot on the good name of Britain. Nevertheless, while politicians quarrel with an eye always to the possibilities of a General Election, no word of solace goes out to the suffering Irish—some rotting in gaols without even the consolation of a proper trial, some under the terror of military hooliganism—and most of them sad witnesses of the agony of a whole nation. Where are the pledges about the right of small nations to determine their own destiny? Gone—with the snows of yesteryear; or else buried in the volleys of Georgian machine-guns as were the promises of Home Rule under the Asquithian rifles of Easter, 1916. Pity the poor Irish!

The Next Viceroy.

We are credibly informed that there is no truth in the suggestion that there is any likelihood of Mr. Gandhi becoming the next Viceroy of India: the British Cabinet is not so original. The suggestion that Colonel Josiah Wedgwood has come to stay, is equally groundless. The honour no doubt is great since, considering that, in these days of Shylocracy, rulers still take pride in proclaiming themselves as democrats, it must be a unique privilege to be that rara avis—the bureaucrat, who is granted almost absolute powers over the destinies of 315 millions of human beings. The Viceroy's position has no parallel in history. Akbar did not rule over the whole of India and Augustus had foolish notions about a Golden Age. Although the Indian Viceroy is like Akbar and Augustus in certain respects he is yet the most helpless man on God's earth. The machine of bureaucracy swallows him up completely; or else he becomes merely the helmsman of the ship of Imperialism—out of touch with the real sentiments of the people. We admit, it may not be his fault, but how many will refuse to admit that it is his misfortune?

A Viceroy's Progress!

One of the causes of the downfall of the ancien regime in France was the terrible oppression of the common people who were subjected to the hardships and injustice of forced labour for the better convenience of the great lords and ladies of the Court in their progress through the country. La Corvee was a remnant of feudal slavery and it died out when the slaves, for the moment, became the masters. In India, too, the systems of kar and begar are the direct descendants of those times when the peasants were considered to be mere "chattel, attached to the land—the adscripti glebae. But the disgrace which the French peasant effaced nearly a century and a half ago still attaches to the name of the Indian peasant who is treated by the benign officials, from the highest to the lowest, as if he were born for their convenience—a mere res, as the Romans might have called him, like the plough he wields. We say the highest advisedly, because we have learnt with consternation that Lord Chelmsford, during his recent trip to the Baghi hills was indirectly though unconsciously responsible for the infliction of gross severities upon the hill-men who were forced to fetch and carry for the Viceregal party as if it were a veritable Romanoff going in triumphal procession through the land. Mr. Stokes states that he has no doubt that Lord Chelmsford himself was entirely unconscious of the loss to the people that his trip entailed though he does not admit this ignorance to free him and other Government officials, from responsibility. What is their responsibility? Let us see.

"Na Dharam na Daya"!

It is Mr. S. E. Stokes, the well-known American, who has unearthed the complaints of the poor, wronged and humiliated peasants and it is due to his magnificient efforts that the public is now made aware of the true implications of an unbridled bureaucracy and its incidence upon the poverty-stricken masses of this country as exemplified in the imposition of forced labour upon the hill-men. The time of the Viceregal visit coincided with the ploughing season when the peasants are busy day and night with their work which if neglected, will bring the dog of starvation howling at their door. One of the hill-men whom Mr. Stokes met was carrying a load of wood and told him with tears in his eyes that he had been detained for about eight days when the party was about to reach Mathiana and expected to lose another five days in preparation for their return. "About 300 farmers were kept away from their fields at Narkanda to ensure the comfort of the party from Simla." At another place "the farmers were receiving no compensation for the time lost or articles supplied and the complaints were deep and bitter. . . . It may be said that in all this the fault does not lie with the Government but with the heads of the States in which these abuses took place. I utterly deny it. . . . The last word in all matter is that of the Superintendent of the Hill State and the Punjab Government." Do the workers and peasants of this country exist to forward the ease and comfort of the Viceroy and the numerous Sons of Jupiter, as Sidney Smith called all officials? No wonder that one these wronged, and disgusted hill-men was found to complain:

"Kya Karen? Sarkar ka na dharam rahn na daya."!

ART AND LIFE.

OPEN LETTERS.

III.

To,

His Excellency, Sir George Lloyd, G.C.S.I. etc. Governor of Bombay.

Sir,—You come from a country where social, political, artistic and literary conditions are more or less settled and continuous, to Bombay, a new City in an old country. It is a hybrid city, this Bombay, possessing neither the heart nor the head of either East or West. It appears to be cosmopolitan, but if it is really so, its cosmopolitanism is of a most amorphous, discordant, type. True, there are Englishmen and Muslims Parsis and Hindus, Frenchmen and Arabs, Japanese and Persians living within its liquid boundaries. But how do they live? They live as it were in prison-cells, apart from each other each community being almost ignorant of the very existence of the other communities: Their vision is consequently so blurred, that they mistake the ceilings of their prison cells for the sky, the blue wide sky! And what is the result of this tribal kind of life? Pettiness of conception, pettiness of motive, pettiness of desire, pettiness of hope, and pettiness of pleasure and pain. There are no high objects and exalted feelings here. It's a city of gold,—the vile, enslaving metal, and not of that aerial, dancing, diaphanous gold of exquisite dreams and sweet-moaning desires. Men meet here the sole object of robbing each other or a common neighbour. There is no great school of fainting in Bombay, to discover unto us the secrets and the fundamental beauty of our environment. There is no sculpture here to reveal unto us new meanings in our life's daily movements and gestures. Men are crying to have beautiful concerts and orchestras here, but such things cannot be born or even acclimatized in such surroundings. The Europeans create nothing lasting here, nor can the Indians do so, on account of their unnatural system of education. Everything dies here after a short time,—our deep faith, our great hopes, our golden passions,—all, all that is beautiful.

Hardly anybody is really happy, divinely, radiantly, resplendently happy in this population of over a million souls, because of the lowness of motive in living. Look at the European community? It is a small enough community, and yet, in o how many compartments is it not divided! And what are the qualities which colour its life most? They are: snobbery, violence, gross materialism, and aimlessness—outside its daily routine work. Then take another small community—the Parsis. An admirable community, full of instincts, which, under proper circumstances, would flower into graceful fantasies. But at present, it is rejoicing immoderately in being an echo of the aimless and soulless European community. Then, there are the larger communities the Hindu and the Muslim. What are they busy with? Business, little family and communal quarrels, the eternal attempts to digest a pound of indigestible food and a half pound of newspaper-made politics, a passion for starting new schemes, and leaving them immediately after doing so. They are a God-forsaken people, votre excellence,—these Bombayites. The little godlings shed tears over them from the Swarga of India, as they see them gradually crushed in the coils of the serpent, yclept 'commonplaceness'.

But you with your energy, your burning desire for improving the country, with your advantages and power, you can cure Bombay of its deadly malady. You can plant a garden in this desert, and make it smile—not with the cryptic, remote smile of the Gioconda, but with that of an angel. You can unite the different streamlets of the different Bombay communities into one broad stream. The different prison-cells can become a large hall, when once their dividing walls are pulled down.—"How is this to be done?"—You might ask. Well, it can be done by promoting the love of beauty, which brings and has always brought together men and women all over the world,—for, we, human beings, long for beauty as instinctively as the moth does for the lamp. Lord Ronaldshay has understood this point, and is, therefore, encouraging Indian Art in Calcutta. Why can you not then do so here? The artistic and literary talents of Bombay have remained underground up till now, because there has been no one to encourage them and to bring them out. Your European will come out of his barren purposeless solitude when he sees the beauty of Indian art and literature appreciated by the head of the Government, and mix with his Indian fellow-citizens more freely,—thereby improving the tone of his own life, as well as that of the life of the whole of Bombay. The Parsi will follow suit, not merely because he is fond of following the powers that be, but because he has a genuine love of culture. The Hindus and Mahomedans, both creators at one time, of highly complex and fascinatingly elaborate systems of culture, will also come out of the shells of their half-rotten, antediluvian customs, and help you in creating a new world of culture. You will thus be the father of a New Society, where East and West will meet—not for taking tea or dining together, or for playing, or for chattering emptily like magpies, but for exchanging ideas on subjects that matter, subjects that live, subjects that exalt human nature and make a country great. Artists and literary men are not fools any more than are philosophers,—you will permit me to say. They do things, which last longer than housing and other welfare schemes, or even military glory. This Fredrick the Great knew, whom,—you once quoted appreciatively at a dinner in this city, for, did he not try to be a poet and be friendly with a poet philosopher Marie Arouet de Voltaire?—

Yours, etc.

"OUR YOUNG MAN."

HIS IMPRESSIONS ABROAD.

IMPRESSED BY UNITY AND STRENGTH OF SENTIMENT TO CROWN

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Oct. 11.
Recd. 6 p.m., Oct. 12.

The Prince of Wales [illegible] enthusiastic welcome home from his Australian tour this morning. Firing of the Royal Salute by beflagged ships greeted his arrival in Portsmouth where, looking well and cheery, the Prince was welcomed by an imposing assembly of naval military and civil authorities.

Replying to the address by the Mayor, the Prince of Wales said he returned most deeply touched and impressed by the unity and strength of sentiment binding all parts of His Majesty's dominions to the Crown and making the future of the British Empire secure. So firm and clear was this devotion to the British ideals and the King their head that his travels throughout had been a profoundly moving and inspiring experience. He was looking forward greatly now to his stay at home. He feared that we were still only at the beginning of our labours. It was necessary to restore our credit and prosperity after the war. He was deeply interested in the problem of reconstruction which all parts of the nation must pull together to solve.

WARM WELCOME.

The Prince had a most warm welcome in the Victoria Station, which was decorated with the Imperial flags. The platform, where the special train drew up, was carpeted with red daize and decorated with flowers. A large banner inscribed "Well Done" and "Welcome Home" faced the royal saloon. The Coldstream Guards supplied the Guard of Honour. Their Majesties, Princess Mary, Prince Arthur of Connaught, Duke of Connaught and other members of the Royal Family, the Premier and the Cabinet Ministers, the High Commissioners, the Agents-General the Indian Princes and the high authorities in the Army, the Navy and the Air Force, the Lord Chief Justice, the Primate and the other Bishops were present.

Huge crowds, most heartily cheered the Prince as he drove in state through the decorated streets to Buckingham Palace whither their Majesties and other members of the Royal Family returned in separate processions.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR MAGNIFICENT NATIONAL WELCOME.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Oct. 11.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Oct. 12.

The press offers a very warm welcome to the Prince of Wales, the editorials recalling the great services to the Empire of the recent travels of "Our Young Man" or alternatively "Empire's Greatest Ambassador."

The Renown was yesterday escorted to Spithead by a destroyer footilla and aeroplanes. The Prince remained on board last night and everything is now complete for a magnificent national welcome to-day. It has been arranged that the Royal train shall slow down at the wayside stations en route to London to enable everyone possible to greet the Prince.

CROWDS' SPONTANEOUS WELCOME.

PRINCE OF WALES' ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Oct. 11.
Recd. 1 a.m. Oct. 13.

The most enthusiastic welcome, accorded to the Prince of Wales in Portsmouth and at Victoria Station, was renewed at Buckingham Palace, this afternoon, when in response to the cheers from an enormous crowd, the Prince and Their Majesties appeared on the balcony. The Prince waved his handkerchief and made a speech acknowledging the splendid spontaneous welcome. Subsequently, the Prince on returning to York House in a motor car, was repeatedly held up by the crowds and smilingly acknowledged the demonstrations of affection.

THE CASTLEREA OUTRAGES.

THREE LORRIES HELD UP.

FIGHT IN PITCH DARKNESS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Oct. 11.
Recd. 1.2-45 p.m. Oct. 12.

The details of the Irish outrages at Castlerea and Bandon show that a lorry en route for Castlerea was destroyed by a bomb thrown into it.

Two lorries were ambushed near Bandon by a hundred armed men. The lorries contained three officers and twenty men. They were fired on from both sides of the road. The lorries were pulled up and the soldiers dismounted and opened fire. The fight lasted for an hour in pitch darkness. The soldiers were unable to see the attackers while the military were plainly visible by the headlights of the lorries.

MORE LORRIES AMBUSHED.

THE CASUALTIES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Oct. 11.
Recd. 4-50 p.m., Oct. 12.

Machine gunning by an attacking party on a military lorry is reported in connection with the ambush at Kanturk. The lorry was held up by milkcarts drawn across the road. One soldier was killed and several injured. When the news reached Kanturk the people recognising probability of reprisals hurriedly closed shops and there was a general exodus from the town which is in a state of considerable alarm and excitement.

INDIAN VICEROYALTY.

"THE TIMES" SUPPORTS CLAIMS OF THREE PROVINCIAL GOVERNORS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Oct. 11.
Recd. 4-25 p.m., Oct. 12.

In the course of a leading article "The Times" further says with reference to the choice of a Viceroy that the matter should not be postponed as the canvassing of names is no longer profitable. The view that "never before has it been so important to choose the right man" is at present no mere conventional declaration for a mistake now might have grievous consequences. Parliamentary experience is perhaps an additional qualification. The best choice would appear to lie among men already in India, or men here with special knowledge of Indian affairs. There are at present in India three governors of provinces, all unusually successful administrators, with considerable parliamentary experience two of whom have been familiar not only with India but with an atmosphere of most eastern countries almost from boyhood.

THE MINERS' BULLOT.

ON OWNERS' DATUM LINE.

EFFECT OF MR. SMILLIE'S RECOMMENDATION.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Oct. 11.
Recd. 6 p.m., Oct. 12.

In the coalfields throughout the country nearly a million miners will ballot to-day and to-morrow on the question of rejection or acceptance of the owners' datum line offer, but anything like accurate calculations of the result are impossible before October 13th when the Executive of the Miners' Federation will meet in London to receive the figures, as there is no means of measuring the extent of the check given to the earlier wave of opposition by the recommendations of Mr. Smillie and other leaders to accept the owners' terms.

Significant of Mr. Smillie's influence is the narrow majority, namely 55 to 45 by which the Northumberland Miners Council rejected the datum line scheme and the fact that coupled with the rejection was the support for proposal to refer the wages demand to an impartial tribunal. The ballot paper in some South Wales districts have already been returned and as expected they show heavy majority against acceptance.

POLISH CAPTURE OF VILNA.

UNAUTHORISED ACTION OF GENERAL ZELIGOVSKI.

It appears that the Polish capture of Vilna is due to the unauthorised action of General Zeligovski, who, after resigning and cutting off the communications with Warsaw and other Polish forces, marched his troops against Vilna. It is believed that the Polish Government will disavow his conduct.

The only Irish policy, the Premier has to offer, is a repudiation, root and branch, of Dominion Home Rule and condonation of the hellish policy of reprisals. The attempt to answer murder by murder and outrage by terrorism is no Government but anarchy."

BOMBAY STILL IN DARKNESS

TRAMWAYMEN RESOLUTE.

STRIKE SITUATION GETTING WORSE.

The Bombay strikes—four in number—are rolling on and the authorities too are rolling in ease and comfort at the cost of the public whose patience is being very bitterly tried by the effects of these strikes.

There was no change in the situation of the Tramway, Postal and Telegraph and Gas-workers' strikes. All the strikers were holding out and assembled on the Esplanade Maidan as on previous days. The tram service remained meagre as before and the service along Jacob Circle has not been resumed as yet. The Company, since the outbreak of the strike have reappointed about 140 old employers of theirs who were dismissed for slight offences and breaches of their bye-laws. The service is far from being any way convenient to the public as upto now only a few cars were on lines and only till dusk. Transfer tickets are still not brought into use and the passengers have to purchase a fresh ticket at every transfer station. Number of the company's "loyalists" has dwindled still lower as only "men in mufti" were mostly to be seen on duty.

STRIKERS HAULED UP BEFORE MAGISTRATE.

Four of the strikers, Mamsudin Mahomed Bux, conductor No. 12, Ramprasad Ramdin, driver No. 269, Mahadeo driver No. 65 and Munishwar Prasad conductor No. 801, who had been charged by Inspector Klein with mischief and using force and violence with the common object of preventing the Tramway's workmen from working, were on their trial yesterday, at the Esplanade Police Court before Mr. Frank Oliveira, the Third Presidency Magistrate.

Mr. Deshpande, pleader, defended the accused, Prosecuting Inspector Finan, conducted the prosecution and Mr. Vicaji, Bar-at-Law, appeared to watch the proceeding on behalf of the Company.

Mahabir Singh, a tram driver said on the 7th instant after the majority of men declared strike he was bringing out a car from the Colaba depot. When the car was on the main road a number of strikers got into it some of them pulled off the pole, some rushed at him shouting, threatening and abusing him. The pole having been pulled off there were no light in the car and it being dark on the road too, he could not identify who the men were. There were, he thought, about 150 strikers near the depot.

Abdul Hussein, and Dildar Hussein, a tram-starter, corroborated the evidence of Mahabir Singh and he too was unable to identify any one.

Vishwanath Shanker, a tramway Inspector, deposed that he was in the car which was being driven by Mahabir Prasad. He saw a crowd of about 300 men about the car. Some of the crowd got into the car and pulled off the pole and the accused Nos. 2 and 4 were among them.

Mr. H. Quinn, Acting Traffic Manager of the Company, said he was standing at the entrance of the company's office. He saw accused No. 4 at the back of the car and No. 2 at the front portion of it, near the driver.

Mr. Carter, Superintendent of Police, A Division, said he saw shower of mud and stones pouring at the car and the driver was being badly handled. He saw accused No. 2, getting down from the car and No. 1 by the side of the car. All were shouting and abusing the driver. He arrested accused No. 2.

Inspector Kein said there was a crowd of about 150 men near the depot, throwing mud and stones at the car when it was brought on the main road. He arrested accused Nos. 1 and 3.

All the accused pleaded not guilty. Accused No. 1, said he was only standing near the car when the police arrested him.

Accused Nos. 2 and 3, also made the same statement.

The fourth accused said he was standing behind the third accused when a Police Inspector dealt him a blow with a stick on his forehead and then took him away.

Vishwanath Shanker Tram Inspector, cross-examined by Mr. Deshpande said there was no light on the road and in the car. It was all dark but he could see persons in the car.

Mr. Quinn, replying to Mr. Deshpande's cross-examination said he was standing near the entrance of the office about 30 feet from the depot. There was light in the depot. When the pole was taken off there was complete darkness in the car. But he could see then men who got into the car.

Superintendent Carter cross-examined, said accused No. 1, was running along the tram car and abusing the driver and No. 2, at the front portion of the car and then came to the hinder part. Accused No. 4 was also at the front.

Inspector Klein said in reply to Mr. Deshpande's cross-examination, that the first accused was on the platform of the car shouting and abusing the car.

FURTHER HEARING POSTPONED.

Further hearing was postponed till to-morrow.

GAS WORKERS' STRIKE.

Gas-workers are also continuing to hold out. The concessions, the other day announced by the Manager of the Company failed to have any effect upon the men who contend that nothing was mentioned about their important demands such as the reduction of the strikers' working hours and an assurance that the management would not consider the strikes as misconduct. The streets of the city are still remaining dark in the night and the company is every day promising to resume street lighting "as soon as possible." It is not known when they will actually act upon their promise. The men also complain that the manager has not mentioned anything in his announcement about the reinstatement of their eight dismissed comrades.

Another notice was put yesterday, asking the men to receive their pay to-day.

IS D. G. RETURNING TO BOMBAY?

It is rumoured that the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs is expected back in Bombay in a day or two.

MORE WORKERS JOIN STRIKES.

TRAMWAY UNIONS BULLETIN NO. III

There is no change in the situation. The strikers ranks were further strengthened to-day by fresh additions. All the cars that were running were manned by foremen, pointsmen, cleaners, clerks (only a few to-day), conscripts from Tramway Colaba Chawls, probationers and by men who were dismissed formerly by the Company. The clerks are beginning to discover that it is better to stick to their desks rather than undertake the onerous duties of the conductors. Four of them were caught for cheating, but the company has decided for the present not to take any proceedings against them. The men who were fined and dismissed have been invited to take the place of the honest men fighting for their bread. The resolve of the strikers is to remain steadfast and united. Arrangements for funds and provision of legal assistance has been made for the members of the Union. Appeals to 'black legs' have been issued with the heading "we are fighting for our and your bread, don't assist in smashing us—and eventually yourselves". Extreme enthusiasm prevails amongst the men as they believe, and as the public is beginning to believe, that justice is on their side.

The Union officials called upon Mr. Pestonji yesterday, who is now the acting manager and not "a certain Mr. Pestonji" as he was described yesterday. An informal conference took place for more than an hour in which both sides had a heart to heart talk—of course "without prejudice." The Board is meeting to-day at 5-30 p.m. when the men's demands will be considered. It is hinted that the men will not receive their wages for the last month—wages which were due on the 12th. The union officials have placed the matter in the hands of their legal advisers and it is expected a test case will be taken against the company immediately. Public opinion is whirling in favour of the men, as the public in face of Mr. Baptista's letter cannot swallow the pill given in Mr. Quinn's statement of figures.

We would request Mr. Quinn to publish all facts and figures and not only those that suit him. We would like to know: what the average driver or conductor gets? By what percentage the expenditure—other than men's wages—of the company has increased? If it is not a fact that in 1914, the company declared a dividend of about 6 per cent, and last year 18 per cent.—an increase of nearly 300 per cent.—Do not the different reserve funds of the company amount to nearly 80 lakhs of rupees? Since 1914 have not men's wages increased by only 75—100 per cent.?" "How many men are fined every month? Does not one days absence entail the forfeiture of two day's leave in the month, the bonus of the month, etc.? "Do men get Sundays, holidays? "If not, is not that fact coupled with low wages responsible for the men's absence from work as shown in Mr. Quinn's circular? Will the Tramway Company answer all these questions? We shall wait and see.

KACHA GARHI OUTRAGE

NEED FOR IMMEDIATE ENQUIRY.

BRITISH CONGRESS COMMITTEE'S REPRESENTATION.

The following letter has been addressed to the Rt. Hon. E. S. Montagu, M.P., Secretary of State for India, by the British Committee of the Indian National Congress.

Sir,—I am desired by my Committee to draw your attention to the very serious incident which occurred on July 8 last at Kacha Garhi Station on the North-West Frontier of India when one of a party of Muhajireen (Mahomedans who are emigrating to Afghanistan as a protest against the Turkish Peace Treaty) was killed and another wounded.

The accounts cabled to this country at the time and that contained in a communique of the North-West Frontier Government stated that two members of a party of Muhajireens proceeding by rail to Jamrud were detected by two British Military Police travelling without tickets. An altercation ensued at Islamia College Station, but the train proceeded. On arrival at Kacha Garhi Station an attempt was made to evict these Muhajireens, whereupon a crowd of some forty Muhajireens attacked the police and seriously wounded a British officer. A detachment of Indian troops at Kacha Garhi thereupon fired two or three shots at the Muhajireen, who were making a murderous assault on the British officer, and one Muhajireen was killed and another wounded. The communique added that the incident had caused considerable excitement in Peshawar, but the Khilafat Hijrat Committee was exercising a restraining influence.

According to a telegram in the "Times" of August 9, this version of the facts is now admitted to be "inaccurate." "The trouble," it says, "appears to have arisen in the first instance from the irresponsible officiousness of a soldier, who, out of sheer lightheartedness, took upon himself the work of a ticket-examiner without authority." The telegram also states that Private Shilcott is to be court martialled and that the British officer concerned has given "a completely satisfactory explanation at Simla."

I now beg to invite your attention to the version of the facts contained in the statement issued by the Peshawar Khilafat Committee, to whose restraining influence in a time of natural public excitement the Commissioner of the North-West Frontier Province bore testimony as stated above. According to this statement the true facts are as follows:—

Some British soldiers travelling by a train coming from Peshawar to Jamrud, in which a party of the emigrants was also travelling, began to stare at the women in the women's compartment and at the Islamia College Railway Station got into the compartment on the pretext of checking tickets and molested the women. One of the emigrants, Habibullah Khan, of Takki, in the Peshawar District, is said to have remonstrated with these men, which led to a fracas, but without injury on either side. When the train stopped at the Kacha Garhi station the British soldiers went to their camp and brought out a detachment of Indian soldiers armed with rifles, who surrounded the train. Another detachment, similarly armed and led by a British officer, followed. A search was then commenced for the emigrant, Habibullah, who, when found, is said to have been attacked with a sword and bayonets, though he himself was unarmed. He fell to the ground and picked up a stone, which he threw at his assailants. The British officer then ordered the Indian soldiers to fire upon the dying man, but the Indian soldiers, with one exception, refused to fire; whereupon the British soldiers seized rifles from the Indian soldiers and fired a volley upon the prostrate man, who immediately expired under the eyes of his little daughter, aged seven.

The statement goes on to say that sword and bayonet thrusts were made into the body of the dead man and that the officer knelt upon the body and cut deep into the neck of the corpse. Another emigrant who ventured to come near is said to have been attacked with a bayonet and to have been wounded and thrown down. The statement adds that the medical examinaion showed that Habibullah, the emigrant who died, had received 15 wounds, nine inflicted with the sword and 6 wounds, and six bullets. Of the former no less than five were found to have been inflicted on the back.

My Committee feels that it is, perhaps, hardly necessary to impress upon you the necessity for a most searching and impartial investigation of this very grave incident, which has naturally given rise to serious apprehension all over India. And they would urge that such inquiry should be conducted by some body independent of the local administration, which was responsible for the publication of an inaccurate version of the facts in the first instance. Non-official Indian opinion from outside the Province should also be adequately represented on the inquiry. The gravity of the facts stated above on the authority of a responsible public body makes it essential that such an inquiry should be held. The reticence and delay in giving a full version of the incident," to use the language of the "Times," coupled with the admitted inaccuracy of the first official statement do not inspire confidence in any proceedings taken by the Military authorities or the local Civil administration. And it is clear that an explanation, however satisfactory it may appear to Simla, offered by the officer in question who presumably had some responsibility for the inaccurate statement at first issued, and against whom such grave and hideous charges are publicly made, can not be allowed to dispose of his responsibility in the matter. Finally, my Committee are unable to understand why this matter has been removed from the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts to be dealt with by Court Martial.

I am to ask, in conclusion, for an assurance that you will make immediate and full inquiry into the matter and my Committee trust that you will agree that such an impartial investigation as they have suggested is essential in the interests of justice and public tranquility.

ELECTION TACTICS IN MADRAS.

"NEW INDIA'S" ALLEGATIONS.

(From Our Correspondent.)

MADRAS, Oct. 11.

"New India" in an editorial draws attention to the "diabolical practices resorted to in this city, the metropolis of the presidency, in case of contested elections. It says that its informant who occupies a high position in life, during the Municipal elections in September had been canvassing votes for Mr. C. Rama Rao and Mr. C. P. Ramaswami Aiyer. On the 9th September at 8-30 p.m. a potful of nightsoil was thrown into a inner passage leading into his house.

Again on 15th September at 8 p.m. an earthen pot containing a number of snakes was thrown from outside the house into his courtyard. The pot broke into pieces and several snakes issued from it. The members of the family rushed out. The police were telephoned for and four snakes were killed that night and some others later on. A policeman has now been appointed to keep watch upon the house but attempts were made to frighten him away.

LOKMANYA NATIONAL SCHOOL.

OPENED BY MR. GANDHI.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

SURAT, Oct. 9.

Last Wednesday marked an important epoch in the political activity of Surat—inasmuch as it witnessed the starting of a school on national lines. Mahatma Gandhi declared "The Lokmanya Rashtriya Shala" open.

In the course of his speech Gandhiji referred to the strong agitation that was going on in Gujerat, particularly in Ahmedabad, Nadiad and Surat and wished that Surat may outrun the other two rivals Ahmedabad and Nadiad. He had no doubt regarding the success of national schools. He, however, warned them against being very enthusiastic in the beginning and becoming very dull and inactive thereafter. In his opinion want of confidence, want of activity and dishonesty were, among others, the principal reasons that contributed to the failure of many good institutions. Proceeding further Gandhiji said that the parents need not expect a rising institution to have all of a sudden that efficient management that other institutions started years before have been able to show. People have been kept in bondage for a long time. If parents desired their children to be free from that slavery, they should cease sending their children to schools under Government control. It is not one Englishman, but the whole bureaucracy that has deprived us of our economic independence. Schools, Law Courts, Councils and similar other institutions have so ensnared us that we have lost even our moral independence.

The national school was then declared open.

U. P. CONFERENCE.

SUPPORTS NON-CO-OPERATION.

U. P. POLITICAL CONFERENCE

(Associated Press.)

MORADABAD, Oct. 12.

The United Provinces Political Conference met again under the presidency of Babu Bhagwandas. The first and second resolutions dealt with the passing away of Mr. Tilak and Dr. M. N. Ondedar. The third resolution ran as follows:—This conference is of opinion that time has come to alter the Congress creed in such a manner as would state clearly that the goal of India is the attainment of Swaraj in accordance with the wishes of the people of India and therefore requests that the National Congress do alter article 1 of the Congress constitution accordingly at its next session. It was moved by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru of Allahabad and seconded by Mr. Mahsud Hasan of Moradabad.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by the Conference.

The chief resolution of the Conference related to Non-cooperation movement. Babu Sunderlal of Allahabad moved that the Conference endorsed the policy and programme of Non-cooperation as enunciated in the special Calcutta Congress resolution and recommended the appointment of a Committee to carry out the programme in practice.

Dr. Murari Lal of Cawnpore supported it. Babu Bunkey Bhari Varma moved an amendment endorsing the policy of non-cooperation but recommending for the present the suspension of that part of the Congress resolution that related to suspension of practice by lawyers withdrawal of students from schools supported or aided by Government, boycott of councils and foreign goods and requesting Nagpur Congress to suitably amend the Calcutta Congress resolution and an Appointment in the meantime of a Committee consisting of Hon. Pandit Madanmohan Malaviya, Pandit Motilal Nehru, Swami Shradhanand, Babu Bhagwandas and Syer Afay Nabi to draw up a scheme of Non-Cooperation that would be more practical and more acceptable to the country.

MR. VARMA.

While Babu Bunkey Varma was moving the amendment a large section of the audience began shouting and crying "shame" and continued doing so for a couple of minutes.

Mr. Sunderlal on Mr. Gandhi's behalf, requested delegates to listen patiently to every shade of opinion expressed in the Conference but that did not have the desired effect. Mr. Varma remained standing on the platform notwithstanding the cries of "shame" and "sit down".

When Babu Bhagwan Das, President, told the delegates that it was shameful not to allow a delegate to express his opinion however opposed it might be to theirs and since he as their duly elected president had allowed the speaker to move his amendment, the delegates must give him a hearing. If they did not, then he would withdraw from the chair and ask them to elect another President. This quieted down the audience.

"WRONG LEAD."

Mr. Varma in course of his speech remarked that he was as eager to make non-cooperation successful as Mr. Gandhi himself. His only difference was that he thought that the Calcutta Congress resolution gave a wrong lead to the country. The steps suggested to carry out the programme were ill-advised, unpractical, and not likely to be effective. They were calculated to defeat the very ends for which they were taken. He submitted that there was no reason in singling out the lawyers to give up their means of living without first having established arbitration courts, or asking the guardians to withdraw their children from school leaving them to wander about and be spoilt without providing for them schools where they could learn, nor in boycotting new councils which however inadequate provided some scope for useful service to the country. Boycott of foreign goods, Mr. Varma added, however desirable was not practicable under present conditions and would remain a dead letter notwithstanding the Congress resolutions. The speaker proceeded to say that the Punjab atrocities and the Khilafat wrongs had no doubt considerably added to hatred against the British. He himself was not particularly enamoured of the British Raj, but it was not wise to be carried away by heat of passion and waste their energy in channels that were not likely to be fruitful. Moreover it was to maintain the prestige of the Congress he submitted that the delegates should not give their sanction to a line of action that was bound to fail, and, calculated to injure the good name of the Congress it had earned during the last thirty five years.

Chaudhari Raghubir Narain Singh seconded the amendment after which there was a general discussion in which Swami Sharaddhanand, Pandit Motilal Nehru, Messrs. Mahomed Ali and Gandhi opposed the amendment while Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya spoke in its favour. The discussion being over, the President was going to put the amendment to vote when Mr. Varma demanded under constitution the right of reply but it was refused. The amendment was then put to vote and declared lost by an overwhelming majority. The original resolution was then voted upon and carried by an overwhelming majority amidst great enthusiasm.

Names of certain lawyers who promised to suspend practice and candidates who withdraw their candidature from the council elections and those who resigned their honorary magistrateships were then read.

MORE RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Gandhi and Swami Shraddhanand at this stage left for Chandausi en route to Aligarh.

Thereafter resolutions urging the authorities of the Hindu and the Muslim Universities to refuse the Government aid and the public to abstain from cow sacrifice and export wheat were passed after which the Conference was dissolved.

Next session of the Conference was invited to Agra. This has been the most successful session of the conference. In all there were about 800 delegates present.

PHRASES OR REALITIES."

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—Your leader "Phrases or Realities" came to me as a surprise. Verily you rushed into print. Commonplaces about unity and solidarity are not the badge of my race. Speech is the symbol of thought and thought is a similitude of reality. Words, loosely used, have a habit of rolling like coins. Precision is the soul of honest differences. Mr. Gandhi and Mr. Jinnah do differ; so, for heaven's sake, do let us be clear as to the meaning of both.

The creed of the Home Rule League needed no change, yet it is changed, and radically so. I say that there was not the slightest reason for effecting the change, a change Mr. Gandhi knew would bring about a conflict between him and the only other master-mind among the members. But that did not matter. I speak as a practical man. I have nothing to do with conscientious crudities. In my judgment, the time is not yet for declaring war which can only be violent.

By the way non-violent warfare is a species of spiritual hysteria. I confess my inability to comprehend it.

This digression will suffice. As for the meaning of both, Mr. Jinnah, says one thing, Mr. Gandhi means another. Here is the plain man's fare, the ipsissima verba, and let your readers judge:

1. To secure Home Rule for India through all "lawful and constitutional activity."	1. To secure complete "Swaraj" for India according to the wishes of the Indian people.
2. To "maintain the connection with Great Britain" by becoming a Free Nation within the British Empire, under the Imperial Crown of His Majesty the King-Emperor George V, and his successors.	2. To carry on a continuous propaganda with a view to organising the people for "peaceful and effective" action to achieve such "Swaraj," and to take such action whenever necessary.
3. To support and strengthen the National Congress, which has laboured for more than thirty years to lay the foundation of Indian Self-Government.	3. The interpretation of the word "Swaraj" as used herein shall not be extended beyond Article 1 of the Congress Constitution, New Constitution of the League.
4. To carry on a continuous educative propaganda on the necessity of Home Rule for India.—Old Constitution of the League.

"The Objects of the Indian National Congress are the attainment by the people of India of a system of Government similar to that enjoyed by the self-governing Members of the British Empire and a participation by them in the rights and responsibilities of the Empire on equal terms with those Members. The objects are to be achieved by constitutional means by bringing about a steady reform of the existing system of administration and by promoting national unity, fostering public spirit, and developing and organising the intellectual, moral economic and industrial resources of the country."

The 3rd sub-clause of clause 2 which restricts the meaning of sub-clause 1 only applies to the first clause of the Congress creed, that is Article I. By no stretch of reasoning can it go beyond that limit. It must stop at the words "self-governing-members of the British Empire." As for methods, it is hopeless to try to qualify the present creed of the League by the relevant words from Article I. It is obvious that the whole object of Mr. Gandhi is to change the Congress creed and bring the League automatically into line with the fad of independence.—Yours, etc.,

M. K. AZAD.

THE WILSON COLLEGE AUTOCRAT

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—I see that the un-Christian-like action of the Principal of Wilson College has roused the indignation of the students. Pardon the liberty I am taking in calling Mr. McKenzie un-Christian, but surely he will himself admit that Christ never preached intolerance. By his expulsion it is a full year that a student loses in his studies. In some cases it may happen that the parents have just enough to pay for one year's training and that chance is lost to the child, simply because he does not wish to be compelled to study and qualify in the precepts of a religion, in which he has no faith.

A few students met in the Marwadi Vidyalaya and passed a resolution. Where are the parents of those and other students;—and where is the public of Bombay? Why should the Wilson College, if only intended to train boys and girls of one particular religion or class or sect, be supported by the Government, out of the moneys of the People? If the College people even agree to give up the subsidy in future, what about the large sums, amounting to a fortune, paid to this institute and the College building and the hostels (mostly for Indian boys) built at the cost of the Indian purse? Why not demand public control over this institute and appoin a strong Committee to manage the affairs of all educational institutes? The matter is too grave either for the authorities or the public to sleep over.—Yours, etc.,

KHILAFAT MOVEMENT.

HOW TO MAKE IT A SUCCESS.

CENTRAL KHILAFAT COMMITTEE'S INSTRUCTIONS.

The Hon. Secretary of the Central Khilafat Committee, Bombay, sends the following for publication:—

"In order to carry on the Khilafat movement, in accordance with the aims and objects of the Central Khilafat Committee, it is absolutely necessary to establish Khilafat Committees in every nook and corner of India. The Provincial Khilafat Committees are, therefore, earnestly requested to establish their branches in every district of their respective Provinces, and each District Committee should have its branches at each and every town and village of the District. Each District Committee should keep the list of its branches, and send a copy of it to the Provincial Committee.

DUTIES OF PROVINCIAL COMMITTEES.

"Provincial Committees should keep a complete list of their branches and send its copy to the Central Committee. Khilafat Committees newly-formed should communicate to the Provincial and Central Committees, the names of their office-bearers, so that a record may be complete. Such lists of Committees will facilitate the matters in the case of urgent communications, and the Central Committee will be in touch with all Khilafat Committees of India, with a view to keeping itself regularly informed of the progress of the Khilafat work throughout India.

"Each Khilafat Committee should propagate the Khilafat movement within its jurisdiction, preach and popularise Non-Cooperation, strengthen Hindu-Muslim unity, start Swadeshi movement, and collect subscriptions for the Khilafat Fund. Thirty lakhs of rupees are needed for the successful working of propaganda, and every Khilafat worker should make strenuous efforts to raise the funds. Each Khilafat Committee should organise Volunteer Corps to help in its work. It is hoped the Provincial Committees and their branches would do all they can to make the Khilafat movement a brilliant success."

HARTAL AT LUCKNOW.

ISHAQ ALI TRIAL DAY.

(Associated Press.)

LUCKNOW, Oct. 12.

Owing to the trial of Ishaq Ali (Zafar-ul-Mulk), Editor of "Al-Nazir" which comes off to-day before the Deputy Comissioner, most of the Mahomedan dealers in the city are observing hartal by closing their shops. Four or more of big Hindu merchants in Aminabad have kept their shops open and enquiry elicited the fact that they had not been approached by any of the people who had been going round endeavouring to secure hartal. Tongas and gharis are plying for hire as usual. Meat and vegitable markets were closed but the bazar dealers were sufficiently wideawake to secure their orders last evening. Narhai Bazar was not affected by hartal which is third of its kind in the course of this year.

SALES OF REVERSE COUNCILS

KARACHI CHAMBER'S SUGGESTIONS

(Associated Press.)

KARACHI, Oct. 12.

The Karachi Chamber of Commerce have telegraphed to Government of India, Finance Department, as follows:—

Having regard to the poor volume of exports in part the result of the prohibition of wheat shipments and to the huge volume of imports stimulated largely by the artificially high exchange of February, March and April last the Chamber consider the present moment most inopportune for stopping sales of reverse councils which stoppage has contributed to the serious collapse of sterling exchange. Once more the Chamber urges that the Government should announce immediately their determination in explicit terms to support rupees with all resources at their command in accordance with the accepted recommendations of the last Currency Committee. This in Chamber's opinion is the first essential to restore confidence. Next step is to announce that the Government are prepared to make weekly sales of reverse councils for amounts that will meet the situation as it arises and at rates only slightly above the market rates. The Chamber consider that the tenders for the reverse councils should be accompanied by the cash deposits in full in order to check mere speculation.

Royal Yakuti.

This Yakuti or life giving nectar has been prepared from the best, choicest, and richest vegetable drugs. It has wonderful properties of increasing virile power and it rectifies urinary disorders. In fact it makes man a man. This valuable medicine is used in large quantities not only by our Rajas, Maharajas, Nawabs and many of the nobility, aristocracy and gentry in this country, but it is greatly patronized by people in all countries of Europe, America, Asia and Africa. It is needless to expatiate upon the magical qualities of this our invaluable medicine. We recommend it especially to those persons who desire to tone the nervous system, to strengthen the body, refresh the memory, and to guard against debility. Suffice it to say that the use of this medicine is recommended to those who have any faith in the Ayurvedic medicines. It works like a charm and the effect is lasting. It replaces lost power and rejuvenates the emaciated and it is enough to say that musk is not that which a perfumer admires. It is that which diffuses fragrance of its own accord. Price per tin containing 40 pills, Rupees ten only.

THE BAKU CONFERENCE.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, Sept. 25.

What little hope that was entertained before the Conference between the Government and the Miners Executive at the Board of Trade was destroyed by the obdurate attitude taken by Sir Robert Horne in refusing the miners' modified demand. After a protracted sitting Mr. Smillie declared that nothing had transpired to justify the prevention of a strike in order to enforce their just demands. The miners met the Government more than half-way in abandoning their claim for a reduction of 14s. 2d. per ton from domestic coal. The miners new proposals consisted of (1) an immediate advance of 2s. for shift and a proportionate increase to youths and boys; (2) such increase should not be added to the existing price of coal; (3) a Tribunal to be set up immediately to enquire whether the present price could be reduced. Further the miners willingly offered to lead evidence before an impartial enquiry to find out the causes of the present shortage in out-put. The miners contend the shortage is due to the selfish and wanton obstacles placed by the mine-owners, who are not willing to work to improve the output, as the profits, under the present circumstanecs would go not to themselves, but to the Treasury. On the other hand, the Government, while refusing to accept the miners' demand, offered to submit the wage claim to special industrial court and institute an inquiry with a view to fixing increased wages rate in proportion to the output, and such new rates to date from October 1st. The miners having refused to accept the Government's terms, the Triple Alliance met yesterday to consider the situation and to adopt the best means by which they could enforce the miners demands. At this Conference the Railwaymen's Executive proposed to send a joint deputation to the Premier and this being agreed to, a deputations to the Premier and this being agreed to, a deputation headed by Mr. Smillie called upon the Premier. However nothing came out of this and the deputation after giving a solemn warning to the Government returned to the Triple Alliance Conference. There is complete unanimity amongst the rank and file of Labour, indeed it is regretted that the miners had dropped the demand for a reduction in price of domestic coal. In the meantime the strike notices expire on Saturday, 25th and if the Government still persist in their mad policy of treating the Labour claims with contempt, as they no doubt do at present, next Monday will be a Black Monday in the industrial history of Great Britain. However, it is hoped that wiser council will prevail at the eleventh hour.

THREAT OF A GENERAL ELECTION.

Well-informed circles believe that Mr. Lloyd George will repeat his shock tactics of the Khaki elections in 1918 and force a General Election. The Coalition Government, in spite of protestations to the contrary, stand discredited. The power of the Labour Party is growing day by day and threatens to shake the faith of "vested interests" in the old order of things. Mr. Lloyd George has, since the last General Elections, never failed to stab the Labour Party whenever and wherever an opportunity presented itself. The Government, in spite of a vast majority, has lost much of its moral strength. It is believed that the Government is anxious to force a miner's strike, in order to appeal to the country on this particular issue. But Labour is prepared to accept the challenge.

MILL INDUSTRY.

A serious depression has set in and all the markets are in a state of stagnation. Blackburn and Greenwood which are dependent on the Indian trade are "in a terrible plight." Many manufacturers are anxious to sell heavily at reduced prices, and in some cases even at a loss. The decision of the Congress to boycott British Goods has created a grave impression. Some mills have closed and many will follow suit in a few days. The uncertainty of the coal situation has aggravated the situation. In Manchester the spinners have gone on a strike and in one district—Oldham—200 mills have closed and roughly 50,000 operatives are thrown out of employment.

The unemployment question has assumed serious proportions. It is estimated that more than 500 000 are idle. The local councils are unable to cope with the situation. Workhouses are full and many ex-soldiers are tramping the country with their wives and children. Pressure is being brought on the Government to open relief works. At a meeting of the mayors of the boroughs—in the Metropolitan area it was decided to lead a deputation to the Premier to lay the case before the Government.

THE FRENCH PRESIDENCY.

M. Deschanel has resigned at last. In spite of the many assurances and re-assurances it was known for a long time that the late President was suffering from an incurable malady. Hallucinations due to overstrain and ill-health are attributed to be the cause and not the effects of his fall from a moving train. Last week there was another accident. M. Deschanel fell into a pond and was rescued after a considerable time had lapsed. His health is at present very delicate and hence his resignation was not a surprise. M. Millerand has consented to stand for election under certain conditions. He is of opinion that Parliament was encroaching upon the powers of the Executive and he has demanded enlarged powers and responsibilities for the president. And if M. Millerand is elected Parliament will have to satisfy his ambitions of personal prerogatives. This demand is much resented by the Socialists and the Radicals. However the latter are in a minority. The election of M. Millerand will give another lease to French Imperialism.

Lord Lytton succeeds Lord Sinha as the Under-Secretary of State for India. He is the grandson of a former Viceroy. He was Civil Lord of the Admiralty and Additional Parliamentary Secretary since 1916.

Dr. Rabindranath Tagore has gone to Holland in response to pressing invitations to deliver a series of lectures at the Leyden, Utrecht and Amsterdam Universities.

BAKU CONGRESS.

Mr. Brailsford reports that the Oriental Conference at Baku was a grand success. 1,800 delegates representing Turkey, Persia, Arabia, Afghanistan and India, were present. Enver Pasha delivered an oration. Moscow boasts that the Soviet Government will drive out European Imperialism from Asia within a short space of 5 years. While the "Times" ridicules the "importance" of the Baku Congress, the "Manchester Guardian" suggests peace with Russia as the best means of finding a solution to the undesirable situation.

ITALIAN WORKERS' TRIUMPH.

The metallurgical workers of Italy have scored a splendid victory. According to the agreement arrived at a conference of the Employers' Federation, the Workers executive and the Government, in addition to a substantial rise in wages, the principle of trade union share in the management and the profits accruing from the industry is recognised. A commission of 7 delegates of the employers and 7 delegates of workers is appointed to draft the necessary legislation to be introduced by the Govern The Premier has pledged his word to carry out the legislation. The metallurgical workers victory will be shared by the other workers, or in other works the Italian workers have achieved a bloodless industrial revolution. It is equally a Government victory, for Italy was saved from a bloody revolution by the tactful management of the critical situation by Premier Giolitti. No doubt it is a serious blow to European Capitalism.

IRISH TRAGEDY.

The Coalition Government, by its failure to stop reckless reprisals by the Irish Police and Army of occupation on Irish towns, has forfeited all claims for justice and morality, and British flag is to-day blackened by the horrible deeds of murder by the forces of the Government. The Government has admitted that the murder of police—a cowardly crime—is the work of a small band of misguided youths. Following upon the murder of a sergeant in the R. I. T. at Balbriggan on Monday, a reign of terror has been established. There is no parallel in the History of the World of the forces of "Peace, Order and Good Government" burning a whole town and dragging women out of their beds and shooting all and sundry found in the streets.

The Government has decided to take up the "Irish Home Rule Bill" as first business of the Autumn Session. The Bill is to be passed as its stands and this will enable the Government to separate Ulster completely from the rest of Ireland and concentrate its forces to deal more severely with Sinn Fein.

The condition of the Lord Mayor of Cork is critical. In a farewell message to the world and Ireland in particular, he forgives "all those who are compassing our (Lord Mayor and other hunger-strikers in Cork Prison) death." He believes that God is watching his country and by His Divine Decree, her resurrection is at hand.

The Khilafat Committee Patna is carrying on an active anti-election propoganda in the province.

The Viceroy was entertained at a farewell banquet last night by 170 members of the United Service Club of Simla. The Lieut.-Governor and Commander in Chief were also among the guests. Sir William Marris proposed Lord Chelmsford's health in a brilliant and clever speech which was constantly applauded. H. E. the Viceroy in replying paid high tribute to the work of the service, his reference to splendid accomplishments of silent band of district officers receiving prolonged applause. Lord Chelmsford received ovation at the close of his speech and was heartily cheered when he left the Club.

His Excellency the Governor of Bombay and party left Viceregal Lodge this afternoon.

Colonel Nawab Sir Mohamed Nasrullah Khan of Bhopal arrived in Simla on Monday and is staying at Viceregal Lodge as guest of Their Excellencies.

MR. KHAPARDE AND COUNCILS

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—It is with a great amount of dismay and disgust that the readers of this esteemed paper have read the advice of the Hon. Mr. G. S. Khaparde to the Nationlists to enter into the Council in spite of the verdict of the nation. Does Mr. Khaparde consider himself wiser than that national assembly that pronounced its considered decision on the present situation and chalked out definite policy of action? Is the temptation of the Council so great for him as to ignore the voice of the nation? Mr. Khaparde ought not to have put on the veil of the statement of Mr. Gandhi as the decision of the Congress is equally binding on Mr. Gandhi. If the Nationalists refuse to stand by the mandate of the National Assembly, why then, where is the necessity of convening the session of the Congress? Let Mr. Khaparde note that as long as there is a division in the leaders of the nation, there is very little chance of our getting Home-Rule. Egypt got Home Rule only when the people were united and when not a tract of persons like Mr. Khaparde was found there. Let Mr. Khaparde put down the role of leadership and we will be really glad.

Hoping this finds room in your esteemed paper,—Yours etc.

PANIPAT SEDITION CASE.

ACCUSED REFUSED TO BE TRIED IN JAIL.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ROHTAK, Oct. 8.

Before Mr. Dwarkanath Mehta Additional District Magistrate the trial began yesterday inside the District Jail of Moulvis Laqaullah and Sufi Iqbal Ahmed who were redently arrested at Panipat under sections 124A and 153A I. P. C. The case of Laquallah was taken first The accused was represented by a Barrister and two pleaders and Mr Shive Narain, Public Prosecutor represented the Crown.

Counsel for accused objected to proceedings being held inside the jail and asked for a trial in open court The accused said if the trial was held inside the jail he would have nothing further to do with the case, The Public Prosecutor said the accused has been allowed as many men as he named inside the jail who were all present. Moreover pleaders and other respectable persons had not been forbidden to come into the court room. The reasons for obtaining Government's permission to hold the trial inside the jail were apparent. Large crowds collected on the road and their shouts were being constantly heard. It was impossible for anybody to guarantee that there would be no disturbance if the trial were held outside and the mob was allowed to roam uncontrolled as at present.

Counsel for the accused said as the law stood it was not only a question of the right of the accused but justice and fairness which demanded a trial of a person charged with such a serious offence in an open court where the public had free access. All over India even where there were crowds and shouting, trials were held in an open court. There were no exceptional circumstances in the present case. The shouts were due to public being excluded. If the trial was held in an open court and there were still shouts heard the accused was prepared to be tried inside the jail.

The court overruled the objection whereupon the accused said that he would take no further part in the trial and he asked his pleaders and relatives to withdraw. They thereupon left the room and the court proceeded with the trial and the prosecution evidence was then recorded.

Mr. Lamacraft, Superintendent of Police who had filed the complaint stated he received the report of the meeting from the Sub-Inspector of Police Sonepat and thereupon he obtained Government sanction for prosecution.

The accused declined to cross-examination the witness.

Tanwar Ahmed, Sub-Inspector of Police, stated that the accused addressed a Khilafat meeting at Sonepat before a gathering of 1000 men. He arrested the accused at Panipat on September 28th. At the time of his arrest, the accused said God be praised. I expected this. Accused told people he was arrested because he was a Mahomedan and served his religion. No pleader or witness was to appear on his behalf as he was for "non-cooperation"

There was no cross-examination and case adjourned till to-morrow.

The court then proceeded with the case of the other accused, Sufi Iqbal Ahmed. The accused refused to be defended by a counsel and objected to the case being heard inside the jail.

Several prosecution witnesses gave evidence against the accused and the case was adjourned. There was no cross-examination.

DR. S. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR

"DIABETES SPECIALIST."

RARE AND INVALUABLE SPECIFIC FOR THE CURE OF "DIABETES."

After a short visit to the Madras Presidency on professional work Dr. S. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR, the well-known Diabetes Specialist has RETURNED TO BOMBAY and will be glad to treat "DIABETES" suffering patients.

During the short stay he has made here before he has treated and has completely cured many persons of whom the following are a few :—

KANYALAL BADRIDAS, a Cotton Merchant, Bombay writes :—

"It gives me great pleasure in testifying to the real efficacy of Dr. S. R. Iyengar's medicinal drugs. I was suffering from "Diabetes" for the last 12 years—Commenced Dr. Iyengar's treatment—my urine was examined by the Bombay Municipal Analyst the Sp. Gravity was 1037 and sugar 5-62 per cent. After treatment, the examination of the same Municipal Analyst; and Dr N. H. Clubwala M. D. B. Hy. (Bombay) at Dr. Masina Hospital Pathological Laboratory "Sugar was found nil" and Sp Gravity 1013.

Mr. BHAILAL V. KHOTHARI, B.A., LL.B., Vakil, High Court, Bombay, writes :—

"It gives me great and sincere pleasure in testifying to the real efficacy of Dr. S. R Iyengar's medical drugs. I was suffering from Diabetes for over 4 years and had tried many well-known doctors of Bombay but without any effect. I then put myself under the treatment of the said Doctor Iyengar and he prescribed a course of 7 complete weeks for me. As each week progressed the disease that could not at all be controlled before, began to abate with the result that I was completely cured at the end of the course, in such a marvellous way that I can very well say that Dr. Iyengar is not a diabetes specialist in name but a specialist indeed in reality. My Sp. Gr. which was 1035 in the beginning of the course came down to 1015 at the end and grains of sugar per ounce of urine fell down from 24 to nil while sediments were not at all visible.

RESPONSIBILITY OF RULING RACE.

REV. GORRIE ON NON-CO-OPERATION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LAHORE, Oct. 11.

Preaching in the Lahore Cathedral yesterday evening, the Rev. L. M. Gorrie made an appeal for reality in the political, social and religious life particularly in view of the reforms to be inaugurated and the talk of Non-Cooperation in connection therewith and asked the congregation to guard against all forms of cant and hypocricy. Take India to-day, said Mr. Gorrie, we will condemn and rightly too the efforts of Mr. Gandhi and Mr. Shaukat Ali towards the promulgation of the doctrine of Non-Cooperation. No one who thinks for two minutes can really commend that policy. The reason is that at the present moment India cannot do without England and England cannot do without Idia.

"CAUSE OF TROUBLE."

Continuing Mr. Gorrie said "Non-Cooperation is an impossible thing for very obvious reasons but I think we need remember that something more is needed than sitting in our bungalows and clubs and condemning the madness of Non-Cooperation. Cooperation is necessary but it could not be all on one side. Are we really striving on our side to break down the barriers? Are we making any effort really to understand the Indian. A true spirit of cooperation is absolutely necessary and it must come from our side as well as from the other. Just because we are ruling race and so much of responsibility must rest with us, it is our right as well as our duty to make the first advance and to do everything we possibly could from our side. It is a tremendous problem and it could be solved only along one line. We are not honest with ourselves and we are not honest with each other and at the bottom of this is the cause of trouble and unrest that are in the world to-day. No problem will ever be solved either here in India or on the Continent or in the British Isles until we recognised that reality is what we want."

INDIAN GUILD OF SCIENCE.

"GAJJAR MEMORIAL LECTURES" ORGANISED.

A meeting of the general body of the Indian Guild of Science and Technology discussed on Saturday last in the rooms of the Deccan Merchan's' Association the question of paying a tribute to the services of its late President the well-known Scientist Prof. T. K. Gajjar. There was a proposal before that an effort should be made to attract to the field of scientific research the type of student whose interest the late Professor had so much at heart. As Prof. Kanga who was in the chair pointed Prof. Gajjar was the first practical chemical technologist Western India had produced and it was he who gave a real impetus to the teaching of science in the Bombay University. It was due to him that there was a separation in the physics and chemistry branches in the M. A. course.

The meeting resolved that the Executive Committee of the Indian Guild should announce "that a prize of Rs. 50 will be offered for the next five years to be competed for by any student taking the B.Sc. or the B.A. with science or the Bombay University for an essay the subject of which will be announced by a committee of the Guild. This year the subject is to be a resume of the Scientific activities of Prof. T. K. Gajjar. The final date for sending in the essay is June 1st 1921, and the examining committee whose decision will be finsl is composed of the following gentlemen. Prof. Hate (Chairman). Prof. Kanga, Prof. Naik, Dr. Vasanji Dalal and Mr. G. N. Potdar. The essays must be submitted to Mr. L. G. Khare, the Hon. Secretary of the Indian Guild at Broacha Building Princess, Street Bombay.

After considerable discussion the meeting also resolved that the Indian Guild should arrange for the holding of a lecture on Prof. Gajjar's anniversary day to be called the Gajjar Memorial lecture. for which an honorarium should be given to the lecturer. M.. Khare was asked to make every effort to induce scientists of distinction in India to help in making these lectures a success.

STERLING MONEY ORDERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—The controversy about the Reverse Bills has obscured the action taken from time to time by Government in respect of these money orders which are in effect Post Office Reverse Bills. In their various notifications regarding these the authorities have been making a gnat after swallowing a camel?

They are ashamed to admit that their newly adopted rate for the rupee was absurd, and, at the same time, do not like being exploited by the public, and so are raising and lowering their so called "commission" so as to bring the Post Office rate into harmony with the market rate.

It was only on the 4th that this so called commission was raised to 6 annas for the miserable sum of 5 shillings and today it is made 8 annas. Do the authorities really think the public so simple as not to see this trick? Then why persist in such circumlocution? Why not say right away that in the present abnormal position Government cannot issue sterling money orders at fixed rates. This will be another admission of the entire failure of their new currency policy, but it will be atleast honest and straight-forward. Why strain at a grant after swallowing a camel?

If it is considered necessary to continue to issue such money orders for pubric convenience the only honest course is to notify that they will be issued at the market rate of the day as determined by the Exchange Banks at say 12 noon each day. I personally favour their stoppage altogether as this system keeps up the unhealthy speculation and exploitation of Government resources that the discontinuance of Reverse Bills was meant to put a stop to.—Yours, etc.
